

Message of the Dean

With a glorious history spanning over sixty-seven years, Khyber Medical College has entered into a new arena of healthcare challenges with resounding hope and promise.

Taking cognizance of the vision and mission of this institute of high standing with reflection on its historical accomplishments, cultivating world leading medical and health practitioners, to heal with quality and compassion and to inspire discovery and innovation with integrity and resolve, it is time to, turn over a new leaf in the competitive academic world, leapfrog our healthcare educational outcomes and address the emerging issues of global health within the indigenous context.

Realizing the onus of obligations, I am committed to lead my team of leading health care professionals, practitioners and academics sharing a vision with a higher purpose to live up to the expectations of our students, parents and community yielding excellent health care to the people of this province and other parts of the country at large.

For my colleagues, faculty members, staff from all departments and academic units, and our research scholars, I ingeminate our mission of becoming and staying a role model of research-driven, practice-informed, diverse, inclusive and equitable institution of academic excellence with the highest standards of ethical behavior at all levels, living up to our values of integrity, inclusiveness, diversity, innovation and equity.

For my students, we are entrusted to provide you with quality medical education at an affordable cost with the highest standards of excellence in both academics and research, both on-campus and online. Increasing graduation rates and levels of educational attainment will accomplish little if our students do not learn something of lasting value that help them in delivering quality health care services to the community.

At this critical juncture of time, while the world has entered a new era of pandemic risk, we are determined to respond to it with strength, promise and ingenuity. We are committed to producing exceptional doctors and medical scientists through our enlivening classroom teaching and practical training. We have the responsibility to produce health care workers, particularly, for the province of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa and to train them for such pandemics.

Alongside, fostering individual's learning with the plethora of opportunities to acquire clinical and communication skills from some of the leading global health care professionals in the public sector. We aim to instil a lifelong passion in our graduates for the compassion, care, and professional approach to health care services, thereby assisting the government to fulfill its obligation to the community.

Relishing its exciting and proud history, KMC has not only produced world-renowned health care practitioners, researchers and academics besides playing a vital role in promoting excellence in the health care profession both locally as well as globally.

I am humbled and delighted by the success of our graduates by playing a lead role at many national as well as international health care facilities through their advanced skills, professional approach, and dedication to the cause. As a dean of KMC, I am committed to ensure valuable and resourceful contribution in the development and delivery of all the key academic strategies, which will be based on honesty and probity, keeping the interests of the institution as a top priority. I will provide the much necessary leadership for the overall development, maintenance and attainment of academic standards and educational outcomes in this medical school of high standards and accomplishment.

It is high time; all of our key stakeholders join us in our efforts to actualize the vision we have set for ourselves and to serve the nation with unflinching commitment and ceaseless dedication.
